FOREWORD

As we, the students of the Senior Class of Joseph Case High School, pass through these halls en route to an unknown future, we at last realize what these four years of preparation will mean to us. The knowledge that we, as the coming guardians of our nation's democracy, must do our best to achieve peace for ourselves and our neighbors, has become a reality.

The members of the Senior Class leave this Yearbook of 1949 as a remembrance of four of the happiest years of our lives.

DEDICATION

To Richard B. Greenman, Superintendent of Schools, who has piloted the Ship of Education in Swansea on an unerring course in his three years with us, the Class of 1949 respectfully dedicates this Yearbook.

TO MISS REAGAN

To our Principal, Miss Helen A. Reagan, whose unceasing efforts and kindly assistance in our behalf have won for her our lasting esteem and respect, we, the Class of 1949, sincerely express our deep appreciation.

Class History

One bright morning in the autumn of 1945 a group of young detectives passed through the portals of Joseph Case High School to begin their four year search for clues leading to the solution of the all-important mystery—their trip to New York. During the first year of their stay, they chose for capable leaders to guide them: Richard Enos, George Lake, Wilfred Heys and Pauline Santerre. With Coach Robert E. Bannister as detective-in-chief, the four helped the class to find a $50 clue in the Valentine's Dance. Because the searchers endeavored to accumulate the knowledge needed to progress to the end of their journey, the dance and the collection of dues from class members were the only means of increasing the funds.

The second year found an added number of detectives from Rehoboth to aid in the search. With Wilfred Heys as Sherlock Holmes, George Lake again as Mr. Watson, Robert Smith as a representative from Skelly Detective Agency, and Pauline Santerre as note keeper, the class was guided to an even more economically successful year by sponsoring the Christmas Dance.

During the summer a frolic was held where more money was made to help to obtain full realization of the New York trip.

With the coming of the third year, Norbert Moniz, George Lake, Charles Kenyon, and Beverly Miller assisted the class in the selling of greeting cards, the sponsoring of the Junior Prom in addition to informal dances, the collecting of waste paper, the selling of cakes, pies, and cookies the sponsoring of a whist party, a cowboy show, and the raising of dues. Almost $1,000 was placed in Charles Kenyon's armored car as rewards for the year.

The final test was the last year where all information had to be gathered for a solution of the case. Norbert Moniz, again as Mr. Holmes, a new Watson, Constance Misorski, a new armored car attendant, June Entwistle, and Secretary Beverly Miller, pooled their efforts with those of their classmates to seize the last money making clues to the mystery. Finally in June 1949 the faithful detectives were awarded the satisfaction of seeing a job well done. The mystery was solved! They were on their way to New York!

The detective agency wishes to thank Coach Bannister, the class officers, and all others who have helped us to reach our goal.

Class Prophecy

Time: June 16, 1969.

Place: New York City

The curtain rang down on the 102nd performance of our play. There were five curtain calls, three with just Barbara Neubauer and myself. As we went down the narrow stairway that led to our dressing rooms, I noticed that my dressing room door stood ajar. Wondering a moment, I left Barbara, pushed the door open, and went in.

A cheery, vaguely familiar, voice greeted me with a hearty, "Hello Sam!"

I looked, then looked again for there in a chair sat Connie Misiorski, one of my old schoolmates, who had become a very successful theatrical critic for The Chicago Sun.

"Babs!" I yelled at the retreating figure of Miss Neubauer, who returned immediately with a puzzled expression on her face.

"What's the matter? . . . Connie!" Her surprise was as great as mine had been.

Connie was smiling warmly. "It's wonderful to see you both. You certainly have made big names for yourselves."

"Look Connie," I said, "you go with Babs while we scrape our make-up off and change. Then we'll go to the 'Club' for dinner."

"Swell!" Connie agreed.

Finishing my washing and dressing, I opened the door just as Connie and Babs appeared at the end of the hall. Outside the stage door was parked my aqua-colored convertible. We piled into it, drove through the glitter and swank of Fifth Avenue, and finally arrived at the Stork Club. The doorman admitted us with a smile, and the head waiter, who was none other than Jimmy Britland decked out in a tuxedo and French accent, led us to a ring side table. After he had taken our order, we started reminiscing about our school days.

"I've just been to good old Swansea," Connie informed us. "I came East to Massachusetts but now I'm on my way back to Chicago."

"Did you see any of our old gang?" Babs questioned eagerly.

"Yes, I saw quite a few of them. June Entwistle and Hope Pontes were home on vacation. They are both teaching at Brown University, you know. Let's see . . . Oh, yes, Philip Griffin and Rodney Kerr have their own garages and are doing a wonderful business and Robert Eddy is a radio engineer for station WPRO. Robert Smith has one of the largest photography studios in the country with George Lake as his Vice-President."

"By the way," I added, "we have another celebrity from our class. Have you read Mildred Reed's new novel? It's been on the best seller list for eight months now."

Babs came up with some more news about another one of our friends. "Did you hear ~~that~~ the first round trip flight to the moon was made by Robert Duckworth?" We all chuckled. We knew he'd do it.

I spoke up again, "You probably know that Susan Waring, known as 'Aunt Sue' on the radio, tells stories to the children every day, the program being sponsored by the Picard Ice Cream Concern. Just think, he was once a clerk at Dunrovin's. The program features Dorothy Gonsalves as the girl vocalist."

At this point Jimmy came with our orders. After he left Connie remembered more about some of the class of '49. "Helen Sykes and Jane Murray are quite successful in the modeling field. Last month I reviewed three of their shows. I heard that Albert Ledoux and Herman Howarth own chicken farms in the middle west."

Suddenly the lights dimmed; into the spotlight stepped the rage of Broadway and the country, Norbert Moniz. As he sent the rich tones of his voice through the club, several girls fainted from sheer ecstasy. Finishing his number he made his way to our table amidst thunderous applause. He seated himself and in no time at all we discovered that three years ago the ex-president of our class had married a cute blonde girl and was not the father of a baby boy. Norbert announced that he had received a letter from Jimmy Leavitt. "Did you know that he is a prominent lawyer? Carolyn Eddy is his secretary and he defended in the Gray case."

"What was that? I'm afraid I'm a little behind in my newspaper reading," I said with what was meant to be a blush.

Norbert continued, "Some company tried to sue Frank Gray for crowding the market with too many of his Chevrolet cars. He's president of the company now."

"Did they win?" Connie asked eagerly.

"Of course they won! Jimmy's a very brilliant lawyer."

"Are you through for tonight, Norbert?" I asked, following the inquiry with an invitation to my place.

Receiving Norbert's affirmative answer, we rose from the table, paid the check, went out the door, and pushed through the crowd of autograph seekers to my waiting car. A short while later we were in an elevator at the Waldorf on our way to my suite on the sixty-fifth floor. Once comfortably seated inside, we picked up our conversation where we had left it.

"Three of the girls have quite a setup," Babs began. "Beverly Miller, Adelaide Manning, and Ruth Martel have started an office. Beverly is an established psychiatrist, Adelaide is her nurse, and Ruth is her receptionist. Loretta Machado is in the 'Waves' and is stationed in China. I got a letter from Loretta saying that she met Henry Boutin and Roger Minville, who are in the Merchant Marine, there."

"Speaking of the service," Connie interposed, "Gus Archer is a five star general, and Henry Rose is a Colonel." We were all pleased to hear that.

Norbert, who had been silent for some time, inquired, "Does anyone know anything about Eleanor Conboy?"

"Sure," Connie replied. "She and Marjorie Garside are working at the Fall River Telephone Company. In Providence Claire Talbot has an interesting job at the Typewriter Company testing the typewriters to see that they work perfectly."

"Oh," said Babs, "I almost forgot that Nancy Borden and Claire Roderick have started a day nursery with Eunice Simcock as their dietician. Pauline Levesque has become a very successful jewelry designer, and Barbara Larrabee is the Beauty Editor for The Ladies' Home Journal."

"Did you know that Douglas Borden has quite a large manufacturing company?" Connie resumed. "They're manufacturing an atomic robot which does all kinds of work, invented by Norman Martin and Charles Lingard. Douglas employed Ida Wood as his secretary. Don't stop me, please. I flew from Providence to New York, and do you know who flew the plane? . . . Joe LaRochelle. I was even more surprised to see Anne Fayan and Janice Ford, both stewardesses for Eastern Airlines." Connie paused to take a breath. "Jack Eddy is a midget race car driver and has built quite a reputation for himself. Cecile Ledoux runs a little tearoom called the Chitchat Tearoom on Main Street in Swansea. Well, I guess that's all." At Connie's sigh we all laughed.

"That's quite a summary, only there are a few people that you didn't include in that version of Burkes' 'Conciliation of America'." said Norbert. "You forget to mention that William Ethier sings commercials on the radio, and Dick Enos has his own barber shop in Hollywood. Also Robert Worthen has his own business which is monogramming coal scuttles. I don't know how he is making out with it though."

At this point Babs yawned and stated (a little wearily perhaps), "George Dattoli has bought out the chain of Rexall Drug stores and has Dennis McGowan as his partner. Leading his own orchestra, Fred Burgess has risen to the place once occupied by Gene Krupa."

"Wait 'till you hear this one!" Connie burst in. "Ray Couturier is the superintendent of the Shirley reformatory! Imagine!"

"That reminds me," I said, "Philip Gladue has won so many cups at regattas that he doesn't have room in the house for all of them. Lester McNeil is going to run in the next election on the Coagulationist ticket, a new party of which he is the leader. He has quite a following and has the Republicans and the Democrats worried."

The yawn that Babs started had now gone completely around our little circle.

Connie began, "I have to catch an early train in the . . . ."

"Did you hear about Lois Grover's playing the organ at Radio City Music Hall?" Norbert interrupted. "She is wonderful."

Connie tried again, "I really must . . . ."

"And that Robert Deubel is a Fuller Brush Man?"

"I really have to . . . ."

"And Louise Manning is married and has six children?"

We all laughed at poor Connie trying so hard to leave.

"We're all going in a minute, Connie, but first, have we forgotten anyone?" said Babs wrinkling her brow in thought.

I broke the resulting silence with "Charles Kenyon is a florist, and he did the Robert Swain wedding, when Bob married that dark-haired girl, I forget her name. Oh, Albert Stevens discovered another gold mine for Jean Watkinson (he handles all her affairs). That's her third one this year."

Standing up Norbert concluded, "Joan Wright is in the movies and Marjorie Williams is her agent. I think that covers everybody."

"Yes, I think it does, so I'm going home," Connie exclaimed.

"This has been fun," said Norbert. "We should get together more often."

"We will," I responded, opening the door. "I'll see to that."

As they walked down the corridor chatting to each other, I closed the door on the memories of what has been the happiest days in my life . . . . school days!

SAMUEL BUFFINGTON

Class Will

We, the members of the Class of 1949 of the Joseph Case High School in Swansea, Massachusetts, do hereby proclaim this to be our last will and testament:

To the Faculty: The Class of 1949 leaves the sincere gratitude and deepest appreciation of all its members for their constant guidance, generous assistance, daily encouragement, and tireless efforts in teaching us. Your efforts have not been in vain.

To the Juniors, we give our dignity, our intelligence, our importance, our friendliness, and the position of Seniors, the most respected and cherished position, since we all work three long, hard years to attain it.

To the Sophomores, we bestow our patience, perseverance, and endurance, of which they need much to successfully complete their high school life.

To the Freshmen, we leave our tactfulness, our good manners, and the reassurance that high school days don't last as long as they seem. They are over almost too quickly, but it pays to work hard and do one's best, for if one does not, he will realize it only too sadly when it is too late.

To next year's Freshmen Class, we leave the school, only slightly damaged.

Individual students leave other treasures which are as follows:

Claire Roderick bestows her smiling dimples on Charlotte Duckworth.

Albert Ledoux leaves his diminutive stature to Charles Ormerod.

Susan Waring bequeaths her poise to Jane Hodgkinson.

Eleanor Conboy and Cecile Ledoux leave their jobs in the cafeteria to anyone who may qualify.

Charles Kenyon leaves to become a big oil magnet.

Frederick Burgess sadly leaves the drum section of the orchestra.

Eunice Simcock leaves her fine cooking and sewing ability to all future Case brides who might need it.

Ida Wood bequeaths her red hair to Mr. Brooks.

James Leavitt bestows his beaming countenance on Billy Winslow.

Charles Lingard leaves his books—not worn.

The Eddy twins leave their artistic talent to Suzanne Mocko.

Carolyn Eddy and Adelaide Manning leave their fine singing voices to Beverly Gunther.

Marjorie Garside wills her quiet manner to Barbara Marr.

Claire Talbot leaves the teachers without a good typist.

Roger Minville leaves his brains to all those poor students who are flunking.

Ruth Martel bequeaths her bangs to Joy Deane. Carry on, Joy!

Augustus Archer leaves his neatness as an example.

June Entwistle leaves her treasurer's books to anyone who has the patience to painfully extract the money from the students.

Pauline Levesque leaves us wondering who will take the menu around to all the teachers next year.

Constance Misiorski and George Dattoli leave the mispronunciation of their names.

George Lake, Philip Gladue, and Douglas Borden leave to go sailing. Good luck, boys!

Lois Grover bequeaths her nimble piano fingers to Dorothy MacDonald.

Hope Pontes wills her natural curly hair (how the girls envy it) to Priscilla McCann.

Henry Rose and Leo Picard leave wishing that they could stay around for a few more years.

Marjorie Williams leaves her loquaciousness to Lois Loyd.

William Ethier leaves his tall build to Harry Manning.

Samuel Buffington leaves with a grateful sigh from the teachers.

Herman Howarth just leaves.

Dorothy Gonsalves leaves in a rush to meet Gene.

James Britland leaves his athletic prowess to all future Case players.

Barbara Neubauer leaves to pursue a career "on the boards."

Rodney Kerr leaves a few more Kerrs to carry on for many years to come.

Anna Fayan leaves her "best dressed" title to Cynthia Dexter.

Albert Stevens leaves in a flash for fear that someone might invite him to come back.

Loretta Machado and Raymond Couturier leaves memories of their mischievousness with the teachers.

Philip Griffin and Joseph LaRochelle leave many tire marks in the back yard.

Barbara Larrabee wills her good looks to all those who need them. Please girls, don't push! The line forms to the right.

Louise Manning doesn't want to leave her popularity behind her.

Mildred Reed leaves a big stack of absentee slips to replace the ones she has used.

Robert Smith leaves still snapping pictures with his camera, which has supplied half the school with snapshots.

Nancy Borden gladly bestows her seat in Latin II on anyone who would really like it.

Joan Wright leaves her place on the cheering squad to all those hopeful aspirants who will try out next year.

Helen Sykes would leave some of her features but she says she'd look very peculiar without them.

Bob Worthen leaves his pipe to all those who smoke cornsilk behind the barn.

Jane Murray leaves her pep to the vitamin factory.

Lester McNeil leaves his current events knowledge to anyone who reads nothing but the funnies.

Richard Enos leaves the title "Best Sport" hoping that it will be attributed to Case High School in all its sports.

Jean Watkinson bequeaths her blue eyes to Jack Benney.

Henry Boutin leaves a bit dazed that it's all over.

Norman Martin leaves his tactfulness as an example.

Robert Duckworth bestows his optimism on James Conole.

Janice Ford leaves to run for the first woman president of the United States.

Robert Deubel leaves quietly as a gentleman should.

Norbert Moniz leaves to rival Perry Como. Watch out, Perry!

Beverly Miller leaves a stack of secretary books almost as high as she is. Beverly, didn't you ever get writer's cramp?

Franklin Gray leaves many dents in and around the school to testify to his presence these four long years.

Robert Swain leaves his ability at forgery to the underworld.

Dennis McGowan bequeaths his dignity to James Greer.

Written, signed, sealed, and delivered this sixteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine.

GOD KEEP THE SENIOR CLASS!

D. A. R. GIRL

Each year the students and faculty of Case High School choose a D. A. R. girl judged upon her outstanding qualities as a good citizen. This year Ida Wood was selected.

Ida is very well known and well liked among her classmates for her friendliness, cheerful smile, dependability, scholastic ability, and earnest efforts in all she does. She has taken the college course and for four years has been a member of the chorus, orchestra, and band.

Ida intends to enter Bryant College this September after she graduates from Case High School.

The Class of 1949 extends their hearty wishes for a successful future, Ida.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

In its second year of public performances, the Girls' Glee Club won much praise. This year the group is under the capable leadership of Miss Irene Silvia. The girls work in collaboration with the Boys' Glee Club in most of the productions. Throughout the school year the officers were: President, Ida Wood, and Vice-President-Secretary, Carolyn Eddy. The pianist was Constance Misiorski.

Members comprising the club were:

Gene Beynon
Sally Chace
Joy Deane
Carolyn Douglass
Carolyn Eddy
Joan Gardner
Dorothy Gonsalves
Lois Grover
Beverly Gunther
Ann Hodgkinson
Jane Hodgkinson
Eileen Ingram
Dorothy MacDonald

Adelaide Manning
Yvonne Manton
Barbara Marr
Joana Medeiros
Beverly Miller
Constance Misiorski
Jane Murray
Barbara Neubauer
Theresa Roderick
Susan Waring
Marcia Wakefield
Ida Wood

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

A newly organized group at Case High is the 'Boys' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Irene Silvia. Everyone enjoyed hearing them sing at the very successful Christmas concert which was their first performance. President, Richard Enos and Vice-President-Secretary, James Leavitt were the officers of the club.

The boys comprising the group were:

Samuel Buffington
Herbert Chace
Raymond Couturier
Louis Dastous
Henry Dion
Richard Enos
James Greene
Joseph LaRochelle

James Leavitt
Albert Ledoux
Gordon Luther
Norbert Moniz
Edward Ryalls
Charles Sample
John Sullivan
Albert Stevens

MIXED CHORUS

Under the capable direction of Miss Irene Silvia, the new Music Supervisor in Swansea, the mixed chorus enjoyed another year of singing. Among the many projects undertaken by the group was the very successful Christmas Concert presented in the high school auditorium. At that time they recorded a musical program for station WALE in Fall River, which was broadcasted the following evening. This program included, not only the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs, but also a double quartette. Those students comprising the mixed double quartette were:

Beverly Gunther
Ann Hodgkinson
Adelaide Manning
Barbara Marr

Samuel Buffington
Richard Enos
Norbert Moniz
John Sullivan

A minstrel show was among the scheduled programs. There was much enjoyment and enthusiasm during this show's preparation and it was favorably received by everyone.

CASE HIGH ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra this year has enjoyed another successful season under the capable leadership of Miss Irene Silvia, its new director. The group played at many of the school's functions, including Open House, the Christmas Concert, and Graduation.

The following students were members of this year's orchestra:

Piano

Arthur Cabral
Cynthia Dexter
Eleanor Medeiros

Violin

Barbara Blackburn
Carolyn Eddy
Dorothy Gonsalves
Gordon Luther
Paul Pelletier

Cello

Betty Mae Pollard

Clarinet

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Officers

Norbert Moniz
Constance Misiorski

Beverly Miller
June Entwistle

Members

James Conole
Carolyn Fiske
Cynthia Dexter
Diane Cardinal
Dana Nickerson
Donald Walton

Ann Hodgkinson
Nancy Warburton
Francis Misiorski
Elizabeth Goss
Margaret Malone
Jacqueline Pickens

The members of the Student Council are the officers of the four classes, the Senior class officers serving as chief directors of the group.

Activities of the Council are preparing rules and regulations for the student body, setting up standards of conduct and devising means for their enforcement, co-operating with the faculty on school problems, and promoting the welfare of the school in different ways through all organizations.

CASE HIGH DRAMATIC CLUB

The Case High Dramatic Club has once again proved its ability under the competent direction of Miss Helen Reagan. Three one-act plays entitled "The Heritage of Wimpole Street", "The Patchwork Quilt", and "The Bishop's Candlesticks" were presented to the public and were enthusiastically received by all.

After-school rehearsals have not hindered the growing membership in any way. Many students wish to obtain the interesting and worth while experience which is available to them in this group.

Although the club has been able to hold many meetings, the officers which were elected last June are: President, Samuel Buffington and Secretary, Constance Misiorski.

THE FRENCH CLUB

Once again "Le Cercle Francais" has enjoyed a successful year. As in former years, one of the main projects of the club was the publishing of "La Classicale", the French monthly newspaper.

This season one day a month was set aside for a social event to be enjoyed by all the members. These "fetes" included a theatre party, a French concert, a Christmas party, a buffet luncheon, and the presentation of several French plays to the school.

The members of "Le Cercle Francais" extend their sincere appreciation to Mrs. Papandrea for making the club a successful school unit.

The officers elected to direct the club were:

President
James Leavitt
Vic-President
Samuel Buffington

Secretary
Constance Misiorski
Treasurer
Beverly Miller

LIBRARY

The Case High School library has now been in operation for two years. An intricate part was played by Miss Sullivan and the librarians who remained faithful to their work of providing enjoyable reading for all students. Throughout the season many new books and worth while magazines were the classification and cataloging of new books.

Student librarians take charge of the circulation system and assist in the classification and cataloging of new books.

For this year the librarians under the leadership of Joanna Medeiros were: Shirley Adams, Dianne Cardinal, Sally Chace, Lucille Dallaire, Carolyn Douglass, Charlottee Duckworth, Carolyn Fiske, Marjorie Garside, Shirley Higginbottom, Sheila Kerr, Jean Ledoux, Priscilla McCann, Suzanne Mocko, Nancy Traynor, and Jean Watkinson.

PROJECTION CLUB

The purpose of the Projection Club is to train boys to operate the equipment by which the school presents its Audio-Visual Aids program. The program sponsored by the club has become very popular not only in the high school, but also in the grammar schools. Throughout the year the Projection Club was active in presenting films for many classes and providing music at lunchtime.

Mr. Edgar was the club's advisor and the officers assisting him were:

President
Robert Eddy

Vice-President
George Lake

Secretary
Eunice Simcock

Treasurer
Ronald Bumpus

Other active members included the following students: Douglas Borden, John Coughlin, Philip Gladue, Oliver Jackson, Norman Martin, and Robert Smith.

CHEERLEADERS

Stimulating the supporters of Case, the cheerleaders, under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Rech, escorted the team to fame. They've cheered the boys through "thick 'n thin", and have displayed exceptionally good school spirit.

Jane Murray and Barbara Marr, co-head cheerleaders, six follows, Joy Deane, Joan Hancock, Beverly Jacobson, Dorothy MacDonald, Hope Pontes, and Susan Waring, and substitutes, Gene Benyon, Sally Chace, Carolyn Douglass, Louise Manning, and Joan Wright were the members of the cheering squad.

Pep assemblies held weekly throughout the football season helped the victorious team and aroused true school spirit.

FOOTBALL

Case High, completing one of its better than average seasons, was represented on the gridiron by a strong and willing team. The Case Cardinals started their season by taking an inexperienced St. Anderw's team 20-0. Then playing their first Narry League game, they whipped Dartmouth 6-0.

Taking a trip to Nantucket, the Cardinals remained unscored upon by downing Nantucket High 32-0. Returning for their third home game, they rolled over Holy Family 45-0. But in the next game Case met a strong Diman eleven and tied 13-13 for the second successive season. Then traveling to Dighton, Case met a powerful rival whom they have never beaten, Dighton High. These two squads battled evenly for four periods and emerged with a 13-13 tie. The next opposing team was a feared St. Anthony's eleven who were defeated but once in eight games. A close battle was fought by the two powerhouses but St. Anthony's managed to pull ahead and take the game, 6-0, for the Cardinals' first defeat.

Then the game which meant everything to the team, the Somerset game, was played. This contest was what the team, especially the seniors, were looking forward to all season. A cold Thanksgiving morning produced a good crowd who witnessed a clean, hard-fought game. Case and those joyous seniors left the field thrilled with a victory that they will long remember. The score was 7-0.

FOOTBALL (FIRST TEAM)

The Case squad, largely made up of Seniors, finished third in the Narry League competition with a won five, tied two, and a lost one record. This was a splendid job and a welcome tribute to Coach Bannister who had to really work hard with this team. The members of the squad who received letters were: James Britland, Captain; Kenneth Daniello, Robert Deubel, Richard Enos, Franklin Gray, Richard Greene, James Greer, Hugh Kenworthy, Charles Kenyon, Rodney Kerr, Charles Lingard, Norman Martin, Robert Mickool, Norbert Moniz, Henry Rose, Wallace Sunderland, Robert Swain, and Howell Swarm.

James Britland was placed on the Narry League All Star First Team. while Wallace Sunderland, Robert Swain, and Norman Martin made second team berths. Wallace Sunderland was elected to be the captain of Case's football team next year.

BASKETBALL

This year's basketball team, regardless of its lack of a home court, was expected to better its last year's record.

Five letter men turned out in addition to Robert Johnson and Charles Kenyon who were expected to add strength to the team that was lacking last season. Robert Swain, who was placed on the All Narry Second Team last season, was captain of this year's team.

Thus it was that a well rounded team played its first game against a prefavored Holy Family team. It was a close game all the way with Case losing in the final quarter by a deficit of eight points.

Coach Bannister made several shifts in the lineup and instituted some new plays in a move to speed up the attack. These resulted in a thrilling one point victory over Dighton.

Following the Dighton game, the team, in high spirits, went to Segregansett to play Bristol County Agricultural School. The game was another close affair with Case coming out on top again to establish its longest winning streak of the year.

A week later Case suffered a setback when Captain Robert Swain was sidelined indefinitely due to a recurrent back injury.

The 1948-1949 varsity, consisting of James Britland, Herman Howarth, Robert Johnson, Charles Kenyon, James Leavitt, Wallace Sunderland, and Robert Swain, wish the best of luck to the team of 1950.

BASEBALL

Case High entered the 1949 baseball season in defense of the Narragansett League Title with only four boys returning from the 1948 team. Since the majority of last year's players had graduated, Coach Bannister had a little trouble in forming a starting lineup that worked well together.

Many of the previously occupied positions being left vacant, quite a number of hopeful candidates were able to get their chance to develop into worth while baseball players. To try to equal the fine showing of last year's team, these boys had to play "heads-up" baseball.

ALMA MATER

Our strong bond can ne'er be broken
Form'd in dear Case High,
Far surpassing wealth unspoken,
Seal'd by friendship's tie.

CHORUS

Alma Mater-Alma Mater,
Deep graven on each heart,
Ode victorious, we go singing
As from these halls we depart.

Mem'ry's leaflets close shall twine
Around our hearts for aye
And waft us back o'er life's broad track
To pleasures of past day.

CHORUS

High School life at best is passing,
Gliding swiftly by;
Then let us pledge in work and deed
Our love for dear Case High.

HUMOR

Norman: "I don't think I deserve an absolute zero, Mr. Brooks."

Mr. Brooks: "I don't either, Norman, but it's the lowest mark I can possibly give."

Worthen: "Is she a natural blonde or a platinum blonde?"

Britland: "Neither. She's a suicide blonde."

Worthen: "A suicide blonde? What's that?"

Britland: "Dyed by her own hand."

Ray: "Hey, Joe! Do you wear suspenders?"

Joe: "No, why should I wear suspenders?"

Ray: "To support your pants."

Joe: "Why should I support my pants? They never did anything for me."

Stevens: "Hey, look at that bunch of cows!"

Lingard: "Not bunch, herd."

Stevens: "Heard of what?"

Lingard: "Herd of cows."

Stevens: "Sure, I've heard of cows."

Lingard: "I mean a cow herd."

Stevens: "Well, what do I care if a cow heard? I didn't say anything to be ashamed of."

Helen Sykes, returning home after being in Miss Papandrea's French class, decided to try out some of her newly acquired French on her mother.

She entered the room and said: "Maman, je t'adore."

Her mother replied: "Shut it yourself. You opened it."

Miss Reagan: "How would you define 'unaware'?"

Skippy Lake: "It's the last think I take off at night."

"By whom?" asked Roger Minville, when he was told that Barbara Neubauer was outspoken.

William Ethier: "When I am sad, I sing; then others are sad with me."

Mr. Dalton: "What can you tell me about nitrates?"

Fred Burgess: "Well---er---they're cheaper than day rates."

Mr. Bannister: "When do leaves begin to turn?"

June Entwistle: "The night before examinations."

Douglas Borden: "How's your sore foot?"

Gus Archer: "I'm not kicking."

Bob Swain: "I noticed that you got up and gave your seat to that lady in the bus."

Franklin Gray: "Since childhood I have always respected a woman with a strap in her hand."

Mildred Reed: "This is the plot of my story. A midnight scene. Two burglars creep stealthily toward a house. They scale a wall and force open a window of the house. As they enter, the clock strikes one."

Marjorie Willams (breathlessly): "Which one?"

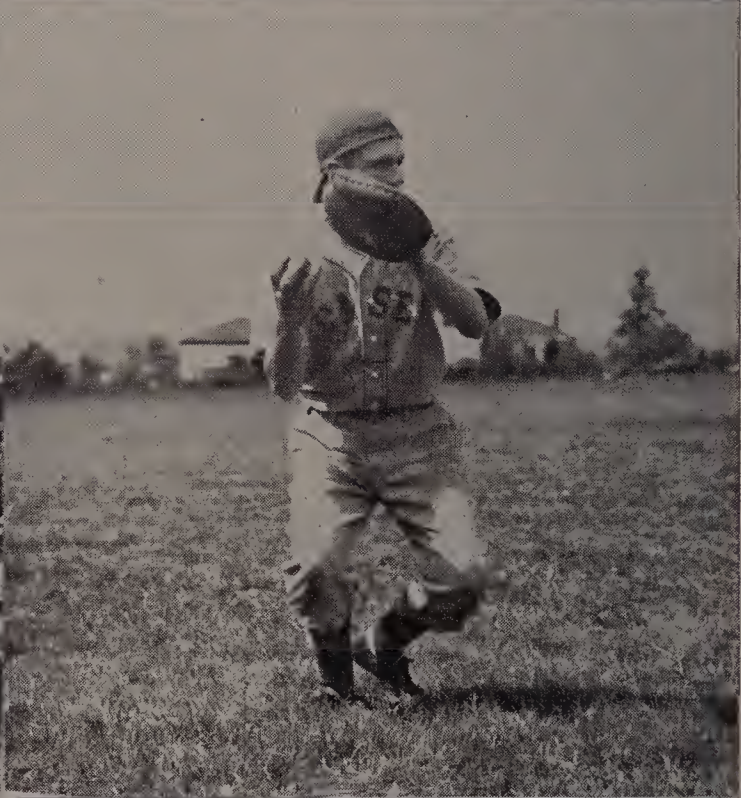

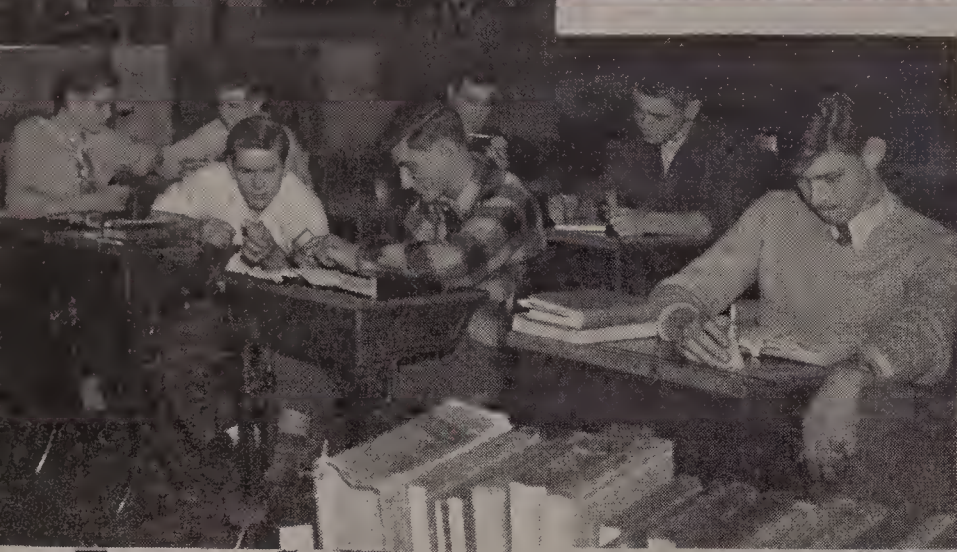

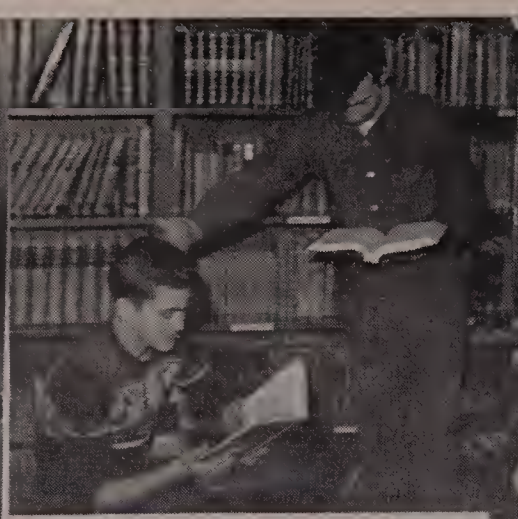

Mrs. Frost: "The picture of the horse is good, but where is the wagon?"

Jack Eddy: "Oh, the horse will draw that."
